HARVESTFEST SET FOR NOVEMBER 6TH, 2010

The Art Guild invites you to Save The Date of November 6th for the Harvestfest Dinner and Auction. Proceeds from Harvestfest provide major funding for Art After School and Fine Art Assemblies. The children are the beneficiaries of the evening but the attendees enjoy a fine evening of friendship, dining and auction opportunities while contributing to this good cause.

Our auction for 2010 features a variety of wonderful items. As always, Harvestfest highlights fine original art work. Many well known and talented artists have contributed their works to support the work of the Art Guild, including fine, one of a kind pieces of jewelry, ceramics, mixed media, wood, and glass designs, as well as unique photographs, oil paintings, watercolors, acrylic, and pastels.

Need a longhorn for your herd? Texan tickets for the sports fan? The movie buff in your family will be pleased to own signed Sissy Spacek memorabilia. Everyone will love our Rick Rowley classical concert and delight in hearing Dick Smith play the great American composers. Dinner for twelve at the lovely Blackbird Farm will treat the palette. These are a but a few of the special items to be auctioned this Harvestfest.

All proceeds from Harvestfest go to support the Art Guild's mission of bringing the arts to children and their communities. Be a part of the fun on November 6 and be a part of the legacy for children.

Underwriting funds are now being accepted and advance table reservations may be made with payment by check or credit card. Please contact Jeanne Schilling at 979-966-7358.

Creative, smiling, gracious, globetrotting – these are but a few of the adjectives that describe Gwen Berry. When Gwen and husband Dick moved to Fayetteville from Corpus Christi some years back, the Berry family became an instant force for good in the community.

Gwen has been a member of the Art Guild since its inception, coordinating hospitality and volunteerism for the organization. She has also assisted with programs like Summer Art Camp. She welcomes friend and stranger, adult and child alike, with a ready smile.

Dick Berry is also active in the Art Guild where he serves on the Board of Directors. He is also an officer for the Cummings Creek Wildlife Management Association and a municipal judge. Both Berrys are members of the Lions Club and active in all facets of Fayetteville. Gwen especially enjoys attending LAF and walking with friends. They have a daughter, son and grandchildren.

Gwen has many interests including decorating, reading to children, creating her own special greeting cards and gardening with Dick. She is proficient in many arts but especially enjoys traveling. In the past five years alone she and Dick have visited such places as India, Morocco, Viet Nam, and Ecuador.

Just as her travels know few boundaries, Gwen's friendship circle is equally large. Gwen is one of those special people who think beyond the obvious and work long and hard to make things better and fun for all. Not just this summer, but always, we salute Gwen Berry.
